In December 2014, Deborah Anderson received an NEH Preservation and Access grant for work in 2015-2016. A Google Research grant from 2014 is funding work by Anshuman Pandey on proposals throughout 2015.

Thanks to a grant made to the Unicode Consortium from the Henry Luce Foundation, Deborah Anderson will be organizing a number of meetings for discussion on specific scripts in China, Mongolia, and Tibet over the next three years. The first meeting took place in October 2015 in Tokyo to discuss the Soyombo and Zanabazar Square scripts.

Potential future script work (outside of the NEH) includes work on Proto-Cuneiform, Proto-Elamite, Runic extensions, Latin extensions, and Mayan hieroglyphs, all of which are being discussed with experts.
