Status

This document is a second draft of the 7,000+ characters that comprise the set of Egyptian hieroglyphs used during various historic times, including the Ptolemaic era.

The intent is to establish the taxonomy using initial sections as an example for the rest of the characters.

The order used is the one established by Hieroglyphica, augmented with characters unique to the Unicode Egyptian Hieroglyphs block and the characters that were part of the Hieroglyphica font but not repertoried in the Hieroglyphica book.

Some of these extraneous characters may have been added in relation to work done under the Dendara project.

There are also some additions coming from the Aegyptus font.

This is not a proposed name list; its purpose is to facilitate review and establish a taxonomy. Neither the block name is final, nor the character name syntax.

This document includes the Hieroglyphica catalog number in each character name in the form A[0-9]{1,3}[A-Z]*

It is likely that the final character names will not include a catalog number, but instead will use a generic code point value (like for CJK) and the various catalog numbers will be provided in a separate table.

Because Hieroglyphica is the best established taxonomy it seems a good starting point.

Note that the catalog numbers deviate significantly from the UniKemet database established with the Egyptian Hieroglyphs proposal (see L2/07-097).

Because they were built in parallel, many identical catalog numbers refer to different entities.

However, other taxonomies are possible. A good candidate is the one used by IFAO system (Institut français d'Archéologie Orientale, also known as the French Institute for Oriental Archaeology based in Cairo).

Because the hieroglyphs have many attributes, criteria, no ideal taxonomy can be created.

Even the IFAO indexing, which further decomposes each major Gardiner section into many sub-sections (such as the A section into more than 20 sub-sections), has many limitations which result from the fact that many entities can arbitrarily belong to different sub-sections.

For reference the IFAO classification for A: Man and his Occupations has the following categories (translated from French):

Men and Rulers (homme et souverains)

- * Man seated or kneeling empty handed (homme assis ou agenouillé les mains vides)
- * Man standing empty handed (homme debout les mains vides)
- * Man, head down (homme, la tête en bas)
- * Man adoring or bent (homme adorant ou penché)
- * Man on the ground or in water (homme à terre ou dans l'eau)
- * Man standing, holding a stick (homme debout, tenant un bâton)
- * Man seated or kneeling, holding something (homme assis ou agenouillé, portant quelque chose)
- * Man standing, holding something (homme debout, portant quelque chose)
- * Man seated, pouring water (homme assis, versant de l'eau)
- * Man standing, pouring water (homme debout, versant de l'eau)
- * Man hiding (homme se cachant)
- * Man working (homme au travail)
- * Shepherd and porter (berger et portier)
- * Man carrying a balluchon (homme portant un baluchon)
- * Man standing, composed with a hieroglyphic sign (homme debout, en composition avec un signe hiéroglyphique)
- * Man holding a weapon (homme tenant une arme)
- * Soldier (soldat)
- * Prisoner and enemy (prisonnier et ennemi)
- * Dancer and acrobat (danseur et acrobates)
- * Musician (musicien)
- * Man and animal (homme et animal)
- * Man in a boat (homme dans un bateau)
- * Child (enfant)
- * Dwarf (nain)
- * Notable seated on a chair (notable assis sur un siège)
- * King or god seated without crown (Roi ou dieu assis sans couronne)

- * King or god standing without crown (Roi ou dieu debout sans couronne)
- * King wearing the white crown (Roi portant la couronne blanche)
- * King wearing the red crown (Roi portant la couronne rouge)
- * Dead person kneeling (défunt agenouillé)
- * Mummy (momie)
- * Statue (statue)

While in principle it should be simple to map Hieroglyphica to the IFAO classification, there are several issues:

- The catalog done by IFAO use glyphs that are very different (full shade, not outline),
- Some categories are very similar (e.g. man holding something versus man working versus man standing, composed with another sign),
- When inserting new glyphs you have to decide which criteria is more important,
- Some categories seem out of scope (King or God), if the glyph represents a god, maybe it should be in that general category (C),
- At the same time some 'human' glyphs are in fact 'god' representation.

An important point to be made is that even, if the IFAO taxonomy was used, there is no intent to use the indexes within each sub-category as normative entries.

In other words, indexes within each sub-categories would be new.

Manner of Presentation

The first pages show the A, B, C, D, E, and F sections of the Egyptian Hieroglyphs block using the Hieroglyphica font. The intent is to review these glyphs to spot any regression. That font will be likely be used for the next version of Unicode for any section already reviewed for Extended Hieroglyphs.

Following is the first draft of the complete same sections (A, B, C, D, E and F) for Egyptian Hieroglyphs Extended from Hieroglyphica.

The code points included in Egyptian Hieroglyphs block and shared with the Egyptian Hieroglyphs Extended are not repeated.

Instead cross references are used to point to the Egyptian Hieroglyphs block values.

Most of the catalog numbers between the two block that share the same glyph entity are identical.

When they are not, an annotation is included showing the discrepancy in the form 'EHX-xxxx' referenced as 'EH-yyyy', EHX stands for Egyptian Hieroglyph Extended, EH for Egyptian Hieroglyph, xxxx and yyyy are the respective catalog numbers.

Note that some glyphs are lighter than others, these weight issues will be fixed in a further version of this draft.

This block shows Egyptian hieroglyphs already encoded in the Egyptian hieroglyphs block using cross-reference in the location where there would appear in the taxonomy used for this block. In this block, the catalog numbers do not use a leading 0. to distinguish from the other block notation.

When the cross-references use different catalog numbers, an annotation is included showing the discrepancy in the form 'EHX-xxxx' referenced as 'EH-yyyy', EHX stands for Egyptian Hieroglyphs Extended, EH for Egyptian Hieroglyph, xxxx and yyyy are the respective catalog numbers.

Annotation symbols: nhg (new Hieroglyphica glyph from font), not in original name list, nage (new Aegyptus glyph, covering original EH extensions), nagx (new Aegyptus glyph, original to Aegyptus)
