Work on unencoded scripts is funded primarily by a National Endowment for the Humanities Preservation and Access grant (under the name Universal Scripts Project). The grant runs until the end of 2016. Another NEH funding proposal has been submitted for work in 2017-2018.

Thanks to a grant made to the Unicode Consortium from the Henry Luce Foundation in 2015, Deborah Anderson will be organizing a number of meetings for discussion on specific scripts of China and Mongolia over the next few years. A meeting on the Khitan scripts in Yinchuan, China, in August 2016 is scheduled.

Potential future script work includes work on Proto-Elamite, Iberian, Demotic, and Mayan hieroglyphs, all of which are being discussed with experts.
