Title:	Error in Glyph for 0ABD GUJARATI SIGN AVAGRAHA
Source:	Canada (V.S. Umamaheswaran, IBM Canada)
Status:	National Body contribution
Action:	For discussion / disposition at M42 of JTC1/SC2 WG2, Dublin
Distribution:	ISO/IEC JTC 1/SC 2/WG 2 and Liaison Organizations
References:	ISO/IEC 10646-1: 2000

It has been brought to our attention by a Gujarati expert in India, through IBM India, that the glyph for

> 0ABD   GUJARATI SIGN AVAGRAHA

is in Error. It should look like the glyph for > 093D   DEVANAGARI SIGN AVAGRAHA.

These glyphs, taken from the current published 10646-1, are shown below:

The glyph for 0ABD should be corrected by, for example flipping it on its Horizontal Axis, to make it look more like the glyph for 093D.

WG2 is requested to process this corrigendum as part of processing Amendment 2 to 10646-1: 2000.
