1. term: "Note" → delta WDSnn (e.g., delta WDS36)

- a relevant document: IRG N1766

- On April 11, 2011, based on Japanese comment in IRG N1766, the term "Note" replaced "Corrigendum".

- "Note (Corrigendum)" is used to update the current WDS.

For example, "Note (Corrigendum)" at IRG #36 and WDS35 will be merged to become a new WDS36.

- Considering this, another term "delta WDSnn" is proposed.

- Rationales:

- 1) The relationship between "Note" and "WDS" is not apparent.

- 2) "Note" is too general and we experienced difficulty in using the term Note (e.g., add a note to "Note")

- 3) If we use "delta WDSnn", then the problems in 1) and 2) above will disappear.

Furthermore, the relationship between delta WDS and WDS becomes clear:

$$\text{WDS35} + \text{delta WDS36} \Rightarrow \text{WDS36}.$$

- Comments are welcome.

2. Using PDF files for WDS-related documents

- a relevant document: IRG N1774

- The following portion is extracted from IRG N1774.doc file. As you can see, some CJK characters are not displayed properly, probably due to a font problem.

In Accordance with IRG N1701, following entries are added.

No. 139a: 具 vs. 目大

No. 298a: 舉舉

No. 298b: 𠂔

No. 354a: 簑

No. 408: 工

In Accordance with IRG N1743, following entries are added.

No. 27a: 𠂔

No. 202a: 𠂔

No. 407: 龜

- Therefore, it is suggested to make available PDF files for WDS-related documents in the future (possibly "in addition to" files of other types such as .doc).
