1. During the period from June to October 2012, the Hong Kong SAR Government received 26 applications to include a total of 56 characters into the ISO/IEC 10646 standard. The applications were carefully examined and verified. All the 56 characters were found in the ISO/IEC 10646 standard and the assignment of new code point was not necessary. The assessment result was endorsed by our Chinese Language Interface Advisory Committee (CLIAC).
2. In accordance with the Resolution M38.2 of the IRG38 held from 18-22.6.2012 that call on Members to review the CJK Extension E, the Office of the Government Chief Information Officer (OGCIO) worked together with the Official Languages Division (OLD) completed the review of the CJK Ext. E v8.0, IRG Working Document Series and IRG Principles and Procedures, and have provided feedbacks to IRG members' chief editors for consideration and discussion at the IRG39 meeting. Comments on Vietnam's choices of radical were also raised on CJK Ext. E v8.1 for clarifications.
